

Friday for the Arts! 8 December 2017 Summary of Events

December Friday for the Arts! Features Great New Displays of Art, Fourteen Music Venues, Children's Theatre, and Appomattox Tile Art Holiday Open House

Petersburg's December 2017 Friday for the Arts! brings us music, art, a holiday opening at Appomattox Tile Art, entertainment, fun activities, food, new beers, and spirits. There will be music in at least fifteen performing arts venues, and there will be great exhibits at the Library, The Ward Center for Contemporary Art, Old Towne Studio 7, the Morena Bohemia Art Gallery, and the Petersburg Area Art League.

The Library is showing the work of Charles Hartwill. The Ward is featuring an exhibit of large new work by Rod Givens, and continues a new exhibit of work by Freedom Wilson, entitled Just Enough Grace for You, as well as new work by one of the most respected of Petersburg-area artists, Eugene Vango, in addition to a continuing exhibits by Carol Anna Meese, entitled Brand New Day, and a newly hung show by Sheila Maitland Holland entitled Rising, as well as at least twenty other exhibits. The Art League will continue PAAL through the Years: 1932 to the Present, featuring images of the Art League and its exhibits over the years, and the 38th Annual Trees of Christmas. Old Towne Studio 7 will display the photography of Michelle Colo Burdiss and the work of Lisa Mistry. Jennifer Schold-Fore, jeweler, will be featured at the Morena Bohemia Art Gallery, along with work by Dan & Kathi Blackmon, Jasmin Mills, Betty Jo Bain, and Joey Northrop. A retrospective exhibit of work by Ken Graves will be shown at Abigail's Antiques. Appomattox Tile Art will present exhibits of paintings by Elizabeth Thacker, jewelry by Kelly Moody, hand-knitted hats and scarves by Tamara Carter, as well as mosaic coasters, trivets, and marble ornaments.

Appomattox Tile Art will present a Holiday Open House from noon to eight, featuring art and a factory tour at six. Old Towne Studio 7 will present spoken word poetry by Chris Bernstorf of Michigan. The Art League will stage a silent auction of work contributed by member artists. The Art League will also present two performances of A Dickens of a Christmas, performed by the Theatre with Children for Children, at six and again at 7:15 pm. Tantrum Tattoos will be offering free henna tattoos. Apothic Hair will stage its Grand Opening & Ribbon Cutting.

Iris Schwartz will be playing holiday flute music at the Art League. Nick Falconer will perform at Trapezium Brewing. Shelly Bonet will be performing with Scott Harriton early on the patio at DJ's Rajun Cajun, and the Triple B Band later. No fewer than three bands will be performing at Old Towne Studio 7: Weathered, from Minnesota, and Paperback and Downhaul, both from North Carolina. Karyssa Busching and No 2 Snow Flakes (acoustic) will perform at Local Vibe Cafe. Courtney Fleming will be singing at the Morena Bohemia Art Gallery. The Ward Center will present the hot DJ Kevin Johnson. Matt Via & the Dirty Runaways, featuring Keith Horne, will be at Old Towne's Alibi, Bobby Horne at Abigails, Rudy Faulkner & Friends at Croaker's Spot, the Sinatra-style crooner Joe LaLuna at Maria's, Steve Brooks & Casey Bowman Miles (keys & vocals) in the Martini Lounge at Wabi Sabi, and Sayre McShane in the Music Room at Wabi. And the Scottish singers of Clan Haggis will be performing in at Tramonto Ristorante. Music this month from six to one!

Opening Reception: New Exhibit: Paintings by award-winning folk artist Charles Hartwill, of Blackstone. Born in Baltimore, Hartwill first came to love art in the 1970s. All paintings reflect his love for people, as well as his appreciation for the culture in the world surrounding him. His “jazz playing” snowmen have evolved into a signature series and have helped him progress to one of Virginia’s premiere artists, with artwork now being featured on the VIDA clothing line. Hartwill’s creativity is the foundation for his new and exciting pieces, which are in great demand. Get ready to swing with the fun and passion of Charles Hartwill’s unique jazz motifs, which include the highly anticipated angelic pieces.

132 North Sycamore Street, (804) 793-8300, www.thewardcenter.com, Facebook: The Ward Center for Contemporary Art

Opening Reception: New Exhibit: The Underground

#1: Local artist Rod Givens is opening a new exhibit of large work in his studio/gallery at The Ward Center for Contemporary Art. Givens has said that his new work “has been a clearing of direction which is less restrained and simpler. The paintings have an ethereal playfulness and wit about them, but with an underlying sense of dread. I am afraid of everything, thus I make art.” The work of the great British-Irish painter Francis Bacon comes to mind. Givens, who has maintained his studio at The Ward since it opened in 2015, studied art at Florida State University, studied painting with Carol Meese, and has exhibited in many group shows and several one-man shows, including two at PAAL. He is also engaged in a nationally highly regarded hat-making enterprise in partnership with Ignatius Creegan, Ignatius Hats, participating in major invitational craft shows around the nation and creating hats for numerous films.

Continuing Exhibit: Union Alley #51: Just Enough Grace for You. Scores of people crowded into the opening of the exhibit in the last two months, and many paintings were sold. Acrylic paintings by Freedom Wilson, a new resident artist at The Ward, who has put up an exhibit of forty or more acrylic paintings in his two adjacent studios, #51 and #55 Union at The Ward. His hyper-realistic paintings of people in action and portraits convey a wide range of subject matter and mood. Wilson, who grew up in Rochester, New York, has been on active duty with the U.S. Army for twenty-two years, and is currently stationed at Fort Lee. For many years after his five-year-old daughter dies in his arms, he did not pick up a brush. He returned to his art at the end of 2014 and early 2015, and virtually all of the work in this exhibit has been created since then. The painting shown, “Iron Men,” and others of his paintings, have been viewed by hundreds of thousands of people on the web.

Continuing Exhibit: A Brand New Day: Carol Meese, who will be exhibiting her fifteen large new paintings in the Grand Gallery, is no stranger to Petersburg. Formerly a psychologist in the Richmond Public Schools, Meese has studied art at VCU, in Florence, and in several other places around the world. She has traveled widely, and her work has been richly influenced by these travels. She has also exhibited and been collected in many disparate parts of the world. She came to the Petersburg Regional Art Center when the Shockoe Bottom Art Center moved there in 2003, and she soon had (with her son Mark Sprenkle) renovated the Friend House and had opened Wabi-Sabi and the Friend House Gallery, which featured her work. She recently staged an exhibit at The Ward entitled Migrations, putting on display her passionate turn toward abstractions from nature, inspired by the minimal but elemental landscape of the beach, where, invigorated by the collision between realms that is ever evident there, she felt herself freed to express herself with paint in a gestural, guttural way. In her splendid new work, she continues to be inspired by the same elemental landscapes, but the new work is quieter, more abstract, more minimalist. Fields of color and marks float as though in space, in the manner of much Chinese and Japanese painting, but avoiding representation. There is something intensely peaceful about these paintings, as though Meese has broken through the tangle of the waves and the dark woods, the struggle between the elements, and has found a clearing—a “brand new day.” Don't miss!

Continuing Exhibit, with six new paintings: Front Display Windows and Grand Gallery: New Work by Bonnie Koenig. Koenig is exhibiting a large number of large paintings Grand Gallery, along with six exquisite new smaller encaustic paintings. She is a Virginian who is featured artist at the Chasen Gallery in Richmond. Her paintings, she says—especially the work she will exhibit at The Ward—find their inspiration in landscape, water, and the atmosphere, using color and mark-making to create depth and light, movement, and the feeling of a place. Her work has been deeply informed by a challenge from a professor at the University of Kansas at Lawrence to begin feeling her painting, and to experiment. This challenge led her to the ancient medium of encaustic, which permits her to develop the rich layering she always works toward in her art. But she hasn't stopped there. Today, she often makes her marks with unconventional tools, such as string, kitchen spatulas, and cement trowels. And she sometimes goes beyond that, mixing media which resist, even conflict with one another, in order to see what the clash produces. The work that results from all of this is compelling. Don't miss!

Continuing Exhibit: Front Display Windows and The Underground: “Presence, Soul, and Existence”: An Exhibit of Steel Sculpture by Bobby English, Jr. English received a BFA in Sculpture from the Maryland Institute College of Art (MICA) in 2011, and studied at the Studio Art Centers International in Florence, Italy. He creates empowering, yet self-destructive metal and earth sculptures inspired by world mythologies, ancestry, identity, dreams, and the dualities of nature. The exhibit at The Ward Center focuses on his steel sculpture. His process is very laborious and exhausting, yet it is meditative and spiritual. While creating sculpture, and even after completion, there is a dialogue happening between the form and English's body. The dialogue ultimately becomes mystic, almost ritualistic, thought-provoking performances that he feels are channeled from the many mythological archetypes that he understands both from his own life experiences and those of his ancestors. English wants people to be inspired to connect with the divine nature within themselves, their personal mythologies, and be comfortable in the expression of their divinity, their true selves. The goal of his art is to create an atmosphere for conversation, understanding, and ultimately compassion for all people. “Darkness within darkness. / The gateway to all understanding.” —Tao Te Ching. Don't miss!

Continuing Exhibit: Mezzanine Gallery and Vestibule Window: Men in Suits:

A Day on the Hill. An installation by Rosamond Casey, of Charlottesville.

Men in Suits: A Day on the Hill is a visual parable of power and its trappings.

This installation of ten photomontages overlaid with painted Plexiglas and arranged in sequence, traces an odyssey through the streets and halls of Capitol Hill. Additional small, framed snapshots of figures in suits serve as rhythmic counterpoints to the larger panels, and walk the viewer through a shadowy world of fragile moments where men are poised to exert their influence. The images were arranged into ten sequential panels that perform a Stations of the Cross allegory. Beginning with Initiation and ending with Enter the Blue Dawn, the images are a meditation on the human fragilities of power structures that bring on cataclysmic change or compromise.

The male suit is a successful adaptation that has survived centuries of fine-tuning and minor variation with no fundamental breakdown of its form and function. By design it expresses an unassailable authority while concealing a myriad of behaviors. When the fabric folds at the joints the suit can suggest a predatory strike, gathering energy for a spring to action, then it reclaims its perfect columnar structure when the wearer stands. There are bird-like qualities in a moving suit—a raucous flapping of leg folds against a wind, a tail feather turned up, an alternation of openings and closings. When the folds collapse in the course of things it can go limp and soft. These dark grey glyphs are so known to us they go unnoticed, but the actions and inactions they enclose reverberate.

Raised in Washington, DC, by men in suits (father, uncle, stepfather [Ben Bradlee], grandfather) in the 1960s, Rosamond Casey returned home carrying a point-and-shoot camera to see what the men in charge on the Hill were up to. She followed them in and out of conference rooms, hotel lobbies, Senate buildings, offices and chambers. Casey has worked as an artist for more than twenty-five years. She has exhibited her painting, calligraphy, book art, and gallery installations widely. Her solo exhibitions include the Burroughs-Chapin Art Museum, Myrtle Beach; Triangle Gallery, Washington DC; McGuffey Art Center, Charlottesville; and the University of Virginia Art Museum. Her work has been included in group exhibitions at the National Museum for Women in the Arts and the Corcoran Gallery of Art, Washington, DC, where she was the featured artist and speaker. Her work is represented in a number of prestigious public collections in the United States, such as those of the National Gallery of Art, The Melbert Cary Collection Graphic Arts at the Rochester Institute of Technology, and the Library of Congress, in addition to private collections in such places as Canada, New York, Los Angeles, and South Africa, where her work is part of the Jack Ginsberg Collection of Artist's Books in Johannesburg.

Casey has produced numerous unique artists' books as well as four additional artist's books that reconfigure her fine art installations into handmade enclosures that display images and accompanying text from her shows. Her original art projects have been published in national journals such as Virginia Quarterly Review, Calligraphy Review, Art Directions magazine, and Archipelago, an international online literary magazine.

Casey is a past president and member of the McGuffey Art Center and founder of Treehouse Book Arts in Central Virginia, through which she has encouraged a revival in the arts related to the hand-made book and taught numerous art seminars that convey her unique process-oriented approaches to drawing, mixed-media painting and sculpture. She lives in Charlottesville.

A limited-edition, hand-made artist book complements the installation. It can be seen in one of the vestibule windows.

Installation Exhibit: Gallery Store-front Window: Lisa M. Kellner, who created “Silent Space,” the installation in the gallery storefront window, spent many years in New York City as a mural artist. She holds an MFA from Lesley University College of Art and Design in Cambridge, Massachusetts. Her work has been displayed in many museums and galleries in the United States, and has been widely reviewed, including reviews in the New York Times, the Boston Globe, and Sculpture Magazine. Though she lived for many years in New York City, and even on an island off the coast of Maine, as well as Richmond.

Live Music: Grand Gallery: The hot DJ Kevin “KJ” Johnson, who works at Radio One Kiss FM, will provide music throughout the evening. Johnson is a highly popular, highly entertaining DJ who is sought after throughout Virginia.

Continuing Exhibit: Grand Gallery, Union Alley Galleries & The Ward Underground Galleries: “Passenger to Paradise,” features never-before-exhibited new work by central Virginia artist Mary Montague Sikes. Color and texture define the work of painter and photographer Sikes. After growing up in Fredericksburg, she a degree in psychology at the College of Mary Washington, but took art classes as electives. She later received an art teaching license at the College of William and Mary, where she discovered sculpture and acrylic paints. Working both in oil and acrylics, she earned an MFA in painting from Virginia Commonwealth University. An award-winning artist and author, Sikes has exhibited nationally and internationally and has taught students on all levels from kindergarten to college. Her photographs and articles have been published in many newspapers and magazines throughout the United States and the Caribbean. Each year she enjoys taking workshops with well-known artists. The College of William and Mary Law Library, NationsBank, Crestar Bank, Philip Morris, Riverside Women’s Health (Williamsburg), Super Clubs (Kingston, Jamaica), National Museum of Women in the Arts, One Capitol Square (Richmond), and Media General are among public and private collections that include her work.

Continuing Exhibit: The Ward Underground Galleries: Work by Dolly Holmes and Mark Pehanich, who moved to Petersburg fifteen years ago from Brooklyn, where they both studied art and exhibited. They have recently completed new studios nearby on Sycamore Street. Holmes, who hails from Northern Virginia, has exhibited in Richmond at the Eric Schindler Gallery, and in Petersburg at The Walton Gallery, as well as other places. Her brightly-colored abstract compositions are enriched by the use of encaustics. Pehanich works both in sculpture and painting, in various media, but recently more in acrylics on paper on wood, or directly on wood panels, sometimes carved. His work has been featured at several area galleries, including Walton Gallery in Petersburg.

Continuing Exhibit: The Ward Underground Galleries: Works on Paper by Aimee Joyaux, who grew up in Hawaii, but studied art and skiing in Oregon, where she received her MFA at the University of Oregon. Not immediately finding a position working in art, she was a ski instructor before moving to Ball State University, where she taught art. There, she met her husband, Alain Joyaux, who directed the university's art museum. About a decade ago, they moved to Petersburg, where they have restored a large former cotton warehouse on Sycamore Street for their home and her studio. Since her move to this area, she has taught at the Appomattox Regional Governor's School and served as the Director of Education at the Visual Arts Center in Richmond. Today she is Associate Dean for Instructional Resources at Richard Bland College. She has exhibited her photography and her art widely, including several galleries in Chicago, at the Quirk Gallery in Richmond, where she has a new exhibit coming up, and at the Walton Gallery and the Petersburg Area Art league in Petersburg.

Continuing Exhibition: The Ward Underground:
Boiler Room Galleries: Delicato: An Installation
by Terry Ammons and Little Monster Studios.

Terry Ammons grew up in Colonial Heights, studied architecture at Virginia Tech, and has practiced architecture for many years now in Petersburg. He has always been particularly interested in interpretive exhibits, including the installation of art. He recently worked on the re-installation of the entire collection at the Chrysler Museum, and has directed the development of major interpretive programs, such as the Moton Museum in Farmville. All along, he has been producing art, and has had two major exhibits at the Petersburg Area Art League. At the Ward Center, he will be exhibiting a remarkable installation of steel sculpture in the Boiler Room Galleries at the western end of the Ward Underground. This installation has been greeted with great acclaim by those who have seen it, is slowly being removed and reassembled at Ammons new venture, AMMO Brewing. The major sculptures, however, several of the smaller pieces, and all of the two-dimensional work are still in place. Don't miss!

New Exhibit: Union Alley Galleries: Rising: Recent Work by Sheila Maitland Holland.

Newly rehung in the Union Alley Galleries, Rising consists of ten of Holland's recent paintings, which represent a departure from the work she last showed in Petersburg. As she describes the recent transformation of her focus on the complexity and beauty of forests to the "simpler forms" of her recent work: "As I struggle to constantly challenge myself in my paintings, I have discovered that the simpler forms in landscapes are what I seem to be striving to capture lately. For within their beauty [I find] the complexity [that] I have been searching for. The way clouds hold light and form to encompass a peaceful sunrise . . . the translucence and form of a simple wave . . . the negative space between leaves, flowers, and trees looking to the sky. I will always have a desire to paint the complexity and beauty of forests, as I have for many years, but for now, I find my challenge lies within simple forms, hues and compositions of God's great design." "The inspiration for this show," she says, "came about through my early morning employment at UPS at the airport. The peaceful sunrises can make the hectic at times, seem heavenly." Holland graduated from VCU in 1988 with a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in Painting and Printmaking. She has been painting now for almost thirty-two years and teaching painting for about fifteen years. She has shown her work widely on both Petersburg and Richmond, and was for many years featured in the PRAC Juried Shows, winning first place quite often.

New Exhibit: The Union Alley Galleries: West Gallery: New Work by Risegun Bennett-Olomidun, who grew up in Ettrick, but studied art at the University of Cincinnati and Columbia College in Chicago, from which he holds an MA. He has exhibited his work in Chicago, in Cincinnati, and in the Richmond-Petersburg area, most recently at the Petersburg Area Art League. He has also managed an art gallery, and, while in Chicago, was involved with the City's public art program. He uses many media, even making his own African drums, and plays them with several groups. Don't miss!

Old Towne Studio 7: A Creative Place

116 West Bank Street, (804)479-3085

New Exhibit: Photography by Michelle Colo Burdiss. Burdiss was first introduced to photography by her mother. While growing up in West Virginia, she watched her mother capture moments of her childhood through the art of film. When Burdiss was in high school, she was taking photos nearly every day. After high school, Michelle moved to Richmond, and has lived in the area off and on (mostly on) ever since. She has the ability to find beauty in the most random places. Once, while out for a country drive with her husband, she spotted some crimson clover in a field across from a public dumpster. She proceeded to spend over an hour capturing images of the flowers, two different types of butterflies, and even a ladybug that landed on her. Over the years, she has been a stay-at-home mother of six and she sure has been through some major challenges (that she plans to write a book about). Through it all, Burdiss is thankful to God that she has never lost her love of random beauty in the natural and in the man-made.

Continuing Exhibit: New work by Lisa Mistry.

Live Music: Weathered, from Minnesota. Acoustic. “Misnomer proves again that Weathered isn’t just your everyday band, but a band that can draw feelings from anyone. With great choruses, and great openings to each song, Misnomer is a proven hit.”(Ryan Bredeson)

Opening Reception: New Exhibit: Main Gallery & Members Gallery: 38th Annual Trees of Christmas. In a tradition of thirty-eight years, the Petersburg Area Art League is hosting one of its most popular exhibits: The Trees of Christmas. For this event, PAAL invites area schools, businesses, and organizations to design, decorate, and display a tree in the gallery space. While some trees are decorated in a traditional style, other trees are designed to creatively reflect the sponsoring business or organization. The trees will be displayed throughout the Main Gallery and the Members' Gallery. This year, thirty-eight trees will be on display, including those designed by: The City of Petersburg, Virginia State University, Theatre With Children For Children, The Petersburg Links, Cockade City Camera Club, Gary's United Methodist Church, Willcox Watershed Conservancy, Fellowship of Christian Athletes, Curl Up and Dye Salon, Petersburg Provisions, PAAL's Art Collective, Dinwiddie Health and Rehabilitation, Colonial Honda, The Runaway Dish, Forgotten Tails, Clean Sweep Petersburg, Brith Achim Synagogue, and many more. The public is encouraged to vote for its favorite tree or trees by donating $1.00 per vote. Proceeds will benefit educational programs at PAAL. Through January 1.

Continuing Exhibit: Main Gallery: Petersburg Area Art League History Show, in celebration of its 85th birthday. The Petersburg Area Art League (PAAL) was established in 1932 by Anna Mercer Dunlop. The Main Gallery will be filled with photographs of the PAAL building, depicting the many changes through the years. Photos taken of the building following the Tornado of 1993 will also be on display. Included in the exhibit will be facts, unfamiliar to many, about the accomplishments of this community organization, a portion of PAAL's permanent collection, memorabilia, and examples of PAAL's current programming. The exhibit will take the visitor on a journey through time from the beginning of PAAL to the present day. There will also be a "fun wall" dedicated to PAAL's future for the public to participate in. Through January 1.

Special Event: Upstairs Gallery: Silent Auction featuring art work donated by members of PAAL and other local area artists. The proceeds from this "one night only" auction will be used to buy supplies for the "Art Collective" that meets twice monthly at PAAL.

Special Event: Upstairs Gallery: Live Family Musical: A Dickens of a Christmas, performed by the Theatre With Children For Children, written and directed by Una Harrison, with original music by the late Paul Bartsch. Two performances, at 6:00 and 7:15 pm. Children free; $5.00 for adults.

Live Music: Holiday music on the flute, performed by Iris Schwartz.

Maria's at Old Town 21 Ristorante Italiano

Live Music: Joe LaLuna, who sings Sinatra-style vocals. LaLuna grew up in New York City and on Long Island, where, as young adult, he had a thirteen-year career as a wedding and event singer, performing at more than 3,000 weddings and dinner-dances. Today, living in the Richmond area, he has taken up singing again, performing the music he loves. 6:30-8:30 pm. Don't miss!

Morena Bohemia Art Gallery

23 West Old Street

Opening Reception: New Exhibit: Featured Artist:
The Tree of Life Collection by Jennifer Schold-Fore,

a Virginia-born Jewelry artist who specializes in wire-wrapping techniques. Wire wrapping is one of the oldest artistic techniques for creating handmade jewelry and goes back thousands of years. She began her artistic career with explorations in needlepoint, basket weaving, quilting, & bookbinding. Inspired by nature, her passion has since grown to include wire wrapping and fiber arts. Old World aesthetics and natural stones, glass, and Copper, are reshaped into Timeless Heirlooms. "The Tree of Life is symbolic of the rejuvenating cycle of creativity. Finding strength and stability in the face of the changing season, it reminds us to remain grounded while reaching for our dreams. This collection is a result of that growth," says Schold-Fore. 6:30-8:00 pm.

Continuing Exhibit: pottery by Dan & Kathi Blackmon of North Carolina.

Continuing Exhibit: contemporary art by Jasmine Mills.

Continuing Exhibit: Work by Joey Northrop.

Special Event: Live Music: Singer Courtney Fleming, who, in the spirit of the holiday season, be singing an array of beautiful Christmas songs. 7:00-8:00 pm.

Special Event: Special appearance by Santa Claus. 6:30-8:00 pm.
